Smooth Skin is Possible Again

By Sidney B. Smith, MD, FAAD

Acne Scarring, Large Pores, Uneven Texture, Fine Line Wrinkles, Sun Damage and many other Premature Signs of Aging can be erased, or at least ameliorated significantly. You too can have smooth skin and look rejuvenated again.

Laser texturing for skin rejuvenation is not only considered the procedure of choice of celebrities, but it is also one of the top procedures performed at Dermacare of Tri-Cities. Dermacare of Tri-Cities offers the best laser treatments, the Laser Genesis by Cutera and the MedLite by Hoya ConBio, which both will quickly rejuvenate your look back to your natural smooth skin.

How does it work? Both lasers emit a 1064 nm wave length that allows the magic to happen. They stimulate collagen production by heating up the skin (specifically the epidermis and the upper dermis). Studies have proven and clinical results are undeniable, that this collagen stimulation causes significant improvement and reduction of size of the acne scarring, large pores, uneven texture, fine line wrinkles, and many other signs of aging. Seeing is believing.

Does it hurt? No! Most patients describe the sensation from the lasers as just warm or tingling. Do I have to miss work for my laser treatments? No! There is no downtime associated with the treatments. After each laser treatment, moisturizer, sun block, and if desired, some jane iredale mineral makeup will be applied to your skin before you return to your normal activities. The only thing that people will notice is the improvement on your skin.

Is the laser treatment safe? Yes, our laser treatments are very safe. It is very important to note that they are safe and effective for all skin types. The laser treatments safely reduce those signs of aging and skin damage. We only allow highly trained licensed professionals to operate our lasers.

How many treatments will I need? Truly that depends on your individual skin. Treatments will be spread out from once a week to once a month. A special treatment plan will be tailored just for you to rejuvenate your skin back to its natural smoothness.
